- 25X1  1. On 8 February 1954, the barracks installation in Loebstedt (8222) near Jena was occupied to capacity by about 1,500 troops wearing red-bordered black epaulets, including about 1,000 troops with tank insignia and about 500 troops with artillery insignia. Troops observed engaged in maintenance work and, occasionally, in training. About 60 to 80 troops were repeatedly seen at physical training. In the morning on 5 February, source observed 2 T-34/85 tanks and 3 SU-100 guns in the barracks yard. Motor vehicles seen entering and leaving the installation  25X1
- 25X1 2. On 8 February, the barracks installation in Zwaetzen (8221) was occupied by about 1,200 troops wearing red-bordered black epaulets, including about 800 troops with tank insignia and the others with artillery insignia. On 4 February, 3 SU-100 guns and an undetermined number of troops, who received instruction on 3 T-34/85 tanks, were seen in the barracks yard. On 6 February, 4 medium AA guns were being maintained in the barracks yard.  25X1
- 25X1 3. On 6 February, the Forst Kaserne (8225) was occupied by a rear detail of troops wearing red-bordered black epaulets, including some with tank and artillery insignia. Source did not observe any training. In the morning on 6 February, 6 guns were seen near the installation. There was no vehicular traffic.
4. On 6 February, the Polizei Kaserne (8223) was occupied about 75 percent by 600 to 800 troops. Source did not observe any training. Vehicular traffic was light.
- 25X1 5. Between 31 January and 8 February, source determined that, in addition to ration supplies and clothing, ammunition was presumably also stored at the Jena-Roedigen airfield.  the buildings there were scheduled to serve as athletic school.
6. On 8 February, the former SA and air force personnel settlement was occupied about 60 percent by Russian families, probably of the units stationed in the barracks installations in Zwaetzen and Loebstedt. About 100 apartments had been vacated by the Germans some time ago.

7. Between 31 January and 3 February, source determined a repair shop for Soviet motor vehicles at the Paradise railroad station in Jena.

8. On 30 January, the barracks installation in Loebstedt was occupied by about 1,200 troops, including about 70 percent wearing red-bordered black epaulets with artillery and tank insignia, about 25 percent wearing black-bordered crimson epaulets and, a few, black-bordered black and blue-bordered black epaulets with signal and engineer insignia. Between 29 and 30 January, source determined one Edushkov (phonetical spelling) (fnu) as paymaster official in the installation. On 29 January, individual reports of machine guns were heard from the firing range in the installation. At about 11 a. m., about 60 troops with rifles and practice targets left the installation toward Roedigen and, at about 2 p.m., 3 T-34/35 tanks and 2 T-34 tanks, including [redacted] left in the same direction. Motor vehicles seen entering and leaving the installation [redacted]
